Section E: Comprehension 1 (5 marks)

Read the following passage carefully and answer questions 16 to 20.

On the bank of a river, there was a tree where a swarm of bees had set up their beehive. They remained busy the entire day, buzzing on flowers and collecting honey. One fine day, a bee felt thirsty and went to the river to drink some water. As the bee was drinking the water, a wave of current swept it away. The bee started to drown.

Fortunately, a beautiful dove, which had been watching from a distance, rushed to help the poor bee. It plucked a big leaf from a tree and flew towards the bee. The dove placed the leaf near the bee. The bee clung onto the leaf and the breeze dried its wings. After some time, it found the strength to fly away to safety.

A couple of weeks later, the dove was caught in a dangerous situation. As it was perching high up on the branch of a tree, a hunter aimed his arrow at it. The dove looked for an escape but saw a large hawk hovering in the sky above her.

The bee came to the dove's rescue by stinging the hunter's hard. His arrow missed the dove and hit the hawk instead. The dove flew away safely.

Section F: Comprehension 2 (5 marks)

Read the following passage carefully and answer questions 21 to 24.

Ludwig Van Beethoven was born in Bonn, Germany in 1770. His father and grandfather were both musicians. Beethoven gave his first public piano performance when he was just eight.

When Beethoven was 17 years old, he took off for Vienna. In a few years, he had earned a name for himself as a pianist and was playing for the rich and famous. They supported him and in return, Beethoven dedicated his music to his audience.

At 28 years old, he started to lose his hearing. He was very upset. Beethoven's social life was affected the most. He began to have sudden bursts of anger, insulting those around him. As his hearing became worse, Beethoven went into seclusion from both the public and his friends. Eventually, he became completely deaf and communicated with trusted friends through written letters.

However, being hearing impaired did not stop Beethoven from composing music. Beethoven composed some of his greatest works when he was almost totally deaf. However, life was not easy for him. Beethoven was seriously ill. He moved more than fifty-two times during his final years. When the famous composer died at the age of 56, almost 30,000 people attended his funeral. Unlike some other composers of that time, Beethoven enjoyed recognition during his lifetime.
