Read the passage below and answer questions 31 to 38.

Meng begged his mother, Mrs Ang, to let him visit the pet shop. Not wanting to disappoint Meng on his birthday, Mrs Ang gave in. In the shop, neither the playful kittens nor the sleeping hamster attracted Meng's attention. Then, his face lit up when he saw a white rabbit.

"Mum, look at its lovely fur. May I buy it?" asked Meng, pointing at the rabbit. It seemed to have heard Meng's words as it turned to look at him.

"If your rabbit falls ill, you will need to look after it. Years later, it might not be active and attractive anymore. Are you prepared for these challenges?" Mrs Ang asked with a serious expression.

"I'm ready for them," Meng replied confidently. Convinced, Mrs Ang took out her purse. However, Meng insisted on paying for his own pet. He would save enough money and return the full cost of the rabbit to Mrs Ang.

Mrs Ang told Meng to accept the rabbit as a birthday present from her. Thus, Meng decided to save up for a rabbit cage instead. Just then, the shopkeeper told them that the rabbit had been limping after a fight with another rabbit. Mrs Ang and Meng were astonished as the rabbit did not seem to be aggressive.

"It's okay. I know how it feels to walk with a limp," Meng chirped. Upon hearing that, the shopkeeper knew the rabbit would be in good hands. He did not notice Meng limping slightly as he walked away with his rabbit happily.

Section F: Comprehension 2 (10 marks)

Read the passage below and answer questions 39 to 44.

It was a quiet afternoon. June and her brother, Jordan, were watching television in the living room of their apartment when they heard cries for help. Curious, the siblings looked out of the window. Upon witnessing the situation at the swimming pool downstairs, they gasped in horror. June and Jordan knew that they had to do something fast and dashed out of their home.

Their mother, Mrs Lim, was preparing lunch when she heard a door slam shut. When she emerged from the kitchen, the siblings were nowhere to be seen. She was sure that she had heard their voices a few minutes ago. Sensing that something was not quite right, she looked out of the window and saw June swimming towards a drowning man in the pool. Realising that her daughter was risking her life to save another, Mrs Lim was desperate to check on June at the pool. Immediately, she rushed to the scene to see if she could help the man too.

Meanwhile, Jordan hesitated as he stood beside the pool. It did not look inviting as the water was cold after a downpour. However, he soon found himself treading water. Together with June, he pulled the heavily built man to safety.

Shaken by what had happened, June sobbed quietly while the paramedics carried the man into the ambulance. Jordan looked pale and drained.

"I would not have been able to do this without my brother's help," June said humbly when she was interviewed by the reporters later that day. The siblings were relieved when they were informed that the man had survived the ordeal.
