Section F: Comprehension 1 (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Evie and her friends explored the woods and to their surprise, they discovered an old boat. It had a hole in the sail and the paint had faded. They decided to repair the boat.

Evie brought along an old dress to patch the sail. Florence brought along a can of paint and four paintbrushes. Susan brought along a tool box while Natalie a sewing kit.

"We'll turn the boat over before repainting it," Evie said. Natalie removed the oars from the boat and put them by the side.

"Ready, steady, push!" cried Susan. The four friends pushed the boat hard and it tilted easily. Susan handed out a few pieces of sandpaper to her friends. "Let's rub off the old paint first," she said.

They set to work eagerly. While removing the old paint from the boat, they talked about the fun they would have when the boat was repaired. After the old paint was removed, Florence gave out the paintbrushes. Florence and Natalie painted one side of the boat while Susan and Evie painted the other.

When they had finally finished, they started to admire their brand new boat. They would have to leave the boat overnight for the paint to dry. "Let's patch up the sail tomorrow before we take the boat out on the river," said Florence.

Section G: Comprehension 2 (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. Your answers must be based on the passage.

Brother tucked his basketball under his arm and looked out the window. Rain was pattering outside. "Mother will never let me go out in this weather," he sighed. Bored, he started bouncing his basketball. His irritated sister, who was reading on the couch nearby, frowned. She ordered Brother to stop but her words fell on deaf ears. Annoyed, she stretched her hand out to swat the bouncing ball away. However, it hit Mother's favourite lamp. The lamp wobbled before it fell onto the floor with a loud crash!

The cubs stood wide-eyed at the broken lamp. Seconds later, they listened in horror as Mother's footsteps were coming closer and closer to them. All they had time to do was to hide the basketball behind the couch.

"What happened here?" Mother appeared at the door, shrieking.

Brother blurted out, "It was the wind." Although Sister knew it was not the truth, she nodded her head.

Sadly, Mother heaved a sigh. She bent down and picked up the broken pieces of the lamp. Instantly, a wave of guilt swept over the cubs. Glancing at each other, they knew they needed to make things right.

"Mother, we broke the lamp. We're sorry," the cubs confessed.

Mother looked up to the cubs and shook her head. "It's not about the broken lamp. We can always glue the pieces back together. I'm just sad that my cubs aren't truthful," she said with disappointment in her voice.

The cubs hung their heads in shame. They knew it would not be easy to win Mother's trust again, but they vowed to gain it back, no matter what.
