SECTION C: Comprehension Cloze (15 x 1 mark)
Fill in each blank with the most suitable word.

Cheetahs are the world's fastest land mammals. These mammals were widespread across African and Asian continents, but today they are confined mostly to the open grasslands of Africa.

Cheetahs are known for (11) _____ spotted fur. They have about 2,000 to 3,000 spots on their bodies, which help them to camouflage themselves. The spots are both small and large and the pattern of spots (12) _____ unique to each cheetah. The spots help them to (13) _____ in with their surroundings so that they can stalk and hunt their prey more effectively.

Cheetahs are not strong predators but they are fast. They rely on their (14) _____ - up to 113 kilometres per hour - to catch their prey. Cheetahs have slender bodies, powerful legs and flexible spines. These characteristics allow cheetahs to stretch their bodies and take rapid strides.

Running this fast (15) _____ up a lot of energy. A cheetah can only sprint for a few minutes before burning out. With this limiting factor, it tries to get as close as (16) _____ to its prey before starting the chase. The cheetah often (17) _____ among bushes and sneaks up on its unsuspecting prey until it is confident (18) _____ the attack. It then darts out of its hiding and the chase starts. Once the prey is (19) _____, the cheetah strangles the animal to death and drags it to a hiding spot. A cheetah never returns to a kill as it only consumes fresh meat. When a cheetah is ill or injured, it cannot capture and (20) _____ its own prey. As a result, it often starves to death.

Before unleashing their speed, cheetahs use their exceptionally keen sense of (21) _____ to scan their grassland environment for signs of prey. They are able to spot their prey up to 5 kilometres away. (22) _____ their super vision is not effective at night. For this reason, cheetahs only hunt during the (23) _____

As fast as cheetahs are, they cannot outrun the threats that they face. Once found throughout Asia and Africa, cheetahs today are (24) _____ extinction. Loss of habitat and declining numbers of prey threaten the future of these cats. Today, there are fewer than 7,500 cheetahs left in the wild, (25) _____ the cheetah Africa's most endangered big cat. Several organisations such as the Cheetah Conservation Fund are working tirelessly to rebuild the cheetah population.
