Felix and his brother Damian were walking home on a rainy afternoon. "Meow," they heard a sound coming from behind a rubbish bin. They approached it and saw a cat. The cat was drenched and looked filthy so they decided to take it home.

While Felix was giving the cat a warm bath, Damian went to get some milk. Watching the cat slurp up the milk greedily, Damian took pity on it and suggested keeping it. Felix agreed readily and found a basket. Immediately, he placed the cat gently into it. The cat fell asleep soon after.

In the evening, when the children's mother returned home, she called out, "It's time to eat." At that moment, the cat woke up and meowed loudly. "We're coming!" replied Felix and Damian.

Felix opened the room door and saw Mother standing there with a frown. "I heard some meowing sounds coming from your room. Is there a cat in your room?" she asked in disbelief.

"Yes, Mother! It's our new pet cat," the boys excitedly shouted.

"No way are you keeping a cat in the house! Take it out now!" roared Mother.

The boys did not know that their mother disliked cats. They had no choice but to take the poor cat back to where they had found it.

Section I – Comprehension – Open-ended (4 x 2 marks)
Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

It was a bright and sunny day. Keegan and I arranged to spend the afternoon at his place. Eager to show me his large collection of toys, he took me to his room. Among all the toys, his most treasured one was a model aeroplane. Keegan said it was a gift from his uncle who worked as a pilot.

I wanted to take a closer look at it so I asked Keegan if I could hold it in my hands. He graciously agreed. Knowing how fragile the aeroplane was, I carefully removed it from the display cabinet. Just as I was putting it back, I sneezed. "Snap!" one of the wings of the model aeroplane broke in my hands.

When Keegan saw this, tears welled up in his eyes. Soon, tears started to roll down his cheeks uncontrollably. With my head hung low, I rushed out of his house as I did not know how to console him.

For the next few days, I stayed out of Keegan's way in school. I was worried that he would still be angry with me. Feeling miserable without his company, I mustered up the courage to approach Keegan after school one day.

I told Keegan, "I am so sorry for breaking your precious aeroplane."

"It's okay! Our friendship is more important than a toy aeroplane," Keegan replied with a smile.

I was extremely touched when I heard what he said. I offered to fix the broken wing of the damaged aeroplane. Keegan took me to his house and we fixed it together.
