Section H : Comprehension (8 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

During dinner, I heard an explosion. Out of curiosity, I went outside to see what had happened. What I saw shocked me. There was a column of dark billowing smoke on the other side of the neighbourhood.

I got onto my bicycle and pedalled towards it. Ten minutes later, I reached the burning site. A row of dilapidated shophouses was ablaze. The police had already cordoned off the area. A crowd had gathered and together, we stared at the scene in dismay.

The fire rose to about twenty metres and it lit up the whole area even though the sky was dark. The firemen desperately sprayed streams of water into the fire to control it. A while later, explosions could be heard as gas cylinders blew up in the intense heat.

The fire raged for more than an hour. I could see anxious people trying to get near the shops only to be held back by the police. They were obviously the shopkeepers. There was nothing they could do except to wait for the fire to be extinguished.

Finally, the blaze died down and darkness enveloped us. The building was totally razed. Only red-hot embers remained where the shophouses once stood. Soon, the crowd thinned and I too went home. Luckily, no one was seriously injured in the fire.
