Section C: Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the passage below and answer questions 11 – 17.

A frog and a mouse were close friends. The frog often visited the mouse at his home where they would share food. The mouse had food stocked in abundance.

One day, the frog said, "Dear Mouse, I come to your house all the time. Now, I invite you to mine!"

"I would love to," the mouse replied, "but your house is across the stream. I don't know how to swim; I'm afraid I will drown."

"I have a plan. You can climb on my back and I can fasten you to me with a strong blade of grass. That way, you will be safe to cross the stream," suggested the frog. The mouse agreed eagerly and they set off.

Halfway across the stream, however, the frog thought, "If I were to let the mouse drown, I can get all his food stock and not have to face hunger for a long time!" So, the selfish frog started diving down.

The mouse, realising the frog's wicked intention to drown him, fought to stay afloat by thrashing wildly. An eagle caught sight of the scene and swooped down. With his claws, the eagle picked up the mouse and the frog that was tied to him.

The frog then realised his serious mistake. "If only I had not been greedy, Mouse and I would not be in such danger."
