Section G: Comprehension Open-Ended

Read the following passage carefully.

It was a very exciting morning in the Mouse House when three little envelopes arrived. Holly and Polly said, "We are invited to a party! We'll all have a great time." Molly, the youngest mouse, did not agree with them.

She took a red crayon and drew spots on her face, pretending to be sick. Mother told Molly that she would be fine as long as she washed off the spots. While her sisters were getting ready for the party, Molly looked for a place to hide. When she crawled under her bed, it was so dusty that she started sneezing.

Mother heard her and thought that she had caught a cold.

"Oh dear, I'll get some medicine for you," said Mother.

The sisters warned Molly that the medicine tasted really bitter. Molly thought for a little while and then whispered to Mother, "I feel much better now. I will go to the party."

The three sisters arrived at the party and met lots of other mice. Molly made many new friends. It was such an enjoyable night for her.
