Part 7: Comprehension 1 (8 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

The sun had barely risen over the horizon as Mary and her group of friends commenced their trek to conquer Mount Everwood. With each step they took, the crisp mountain air filled their lungs. This lifted their spirits, strengthening them for the demanding and exhilarating climb that lay ahead.

With the help of a compass and hiking poles, Mary and the other climbers crossed thick forests, with tall pine trees creating a natural shelter over them. Slowly but steadily, they made their way up the rocky plain, relying on each other's support and company.

The higher they climbed, the colder and more dangerous the path became. Despite huddling together, their hands and feet were numbed by the biting chill. But nothing could stop them from moving forward. The mountain was filled with steep cliffs and rocky cracks. As they reached greater elevations, a sea of clouds spread below, and the far mountains appeared like islands in an ocean of mist. Seeing this kept them motivated.

After hours of effort and battling tiredness, the team finally reached the summit. They were filled with jubilation as they stood on the top of the mountain. The sense of accomplishment and the awe-inspiring view made the journey worthwhile.

The climb was more than just a physical success; it was a journey that built unbreakable bonds among Mary and her friends.

Part 8: Comprehension 2 (8 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Emma was a young girl filled with kindness. She always looked for ways to help others. After school every day, she visited Mrs Thompson, an elderly widow. Emma would then keep her company and help her with the household chores.

One winter, a severe snowstorm hit the village and everyone struggled to clear the snow from their driveways. In a flash, Emma cheerfully grabbed a shovel and started helping her neighbours. Soon, a group of friends joined her in her good deed.

One morning, as Emma was walking past a bakery, she noticed a little boy named Timmy. He was gazing longingly at the delicious pastries in the window. Emma knew that Timmy's family was going through tough times to make ends meet. Without a second thought, Emma bought a pastry for Timmy, knowing that he could not afford it. The joy on Timmy's face warmed her heart and filled her with happiness.

Shortly, news of Emma's kindness spread throughout the village and that inspired more people to perform acts of kindness.

When spring came, the village celebrated Kindness Day. The mayor presented Emma with a special award for being the "Kindest Kid". However, Emma was not interested in the recognition. She cared more about seeing the smiles on people's faces.

Before long, Emma's kindness created a ripple effect. In the course of time, the village became a close-knit, loving community.
