Sam was excited as he had planned for a long awaited hike in the forest. He left home with his backpack before dawn, hoping to catch the sunrise. As he walked, he heard the sound of rushing water. He followed the sound and saw a river.

Thrilled, Sam stood on a big rock to get a better view of it. The water in the river was splashing and swirling, creating a beautiful but powerful sight. Suddenly, he noticed a small boat tied to a rock nearby. It looked like no one had used it for a long time.

An idea struck him. Sam untied the boat, got into it and started paddling. Unfortunately, the current was fast and rough and Sam realised that he did not have a life jacket on. He started to feel worried.

Unexpectedly, the boat hit a hidden rock and capsized. Sam struggled to swim ashore but the current was too strong. He thought that he was going to drown. Expecting the worst, he closed his eyes and let the water carry him.

After a while, the river became calm and Sam found himself ashore in a peaceful part of the forest. He was grateful to have made it through. He reflected on his actions and thought that he should have followed his original plan. He might not be so lucky in future.
