Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. (8 marks)

In a village lived a farmer and his only son. His son was a thief who went about stealing from people's homes. He continued his wicked lifestyle until one fateful day. He stole money from the richest man in their village and got caught. The rich man called the police immediately when he found out that his money was missing. After investigating, the police found out that the boy had stolen the money and sent him to prison.

Soon, it was time for farming. However, the farmer was already old and feeble. He could not plough the ground anymore. He wrote a letter to his son in prison. "Son, this year, I cannot plant cassava and yam because I am unable to plough the field. If only you were here! You would have helped me."

The son thought of a plan and replied his father, "Dad, don't even think of digging the field. That's where I buried the money I had stolen."

A policeman, upon reading the letter, went early the next morning to dig the whole field in search of the money but found nothing. The next day, the son wrote to his father again, "Dad, you can now plant your cassava and yam."

Dad replied, "Son, you are shrewd indeed. I was surprised to see a policeman working on the fields!"
