Text 2

The extract below is taken from a hiking community's website.

With its scenic landscapes and magical surroundings, the newly-opened Whispering Pines nature trail looks set to become a popular destination for hikers. The trail goes through a dense forest which stretches for nearly 30 kilometres. By taking a walk along the nature trail, hikers get to enjoy the beautiful views of the towering trees. Hikers might also spot wildlife such as boars and hedgehogs.

Nonetheless, this relatively unknown area has several potential safety hazards especially to hikers not familiar with the terrain. Poisonous insects and plants may exist within the difficult terrain comprising steep hills and rocky paths. When rain falls, hikers have to be careful and watch out for slippery grounds. Furthermore, its remote location will pose a challenge for hikers in an emergency. They may not be able to use their phones for navigation and communication in certain parts of the forest as the signal is not strong enough. Therefore, hikers should always be prepared with a map and compass for navigation instead of solely relying on their mobile phones.

It is the kind of experiences hikers will not get from the common walking trails. Sometimes, one has to venture out from the comfort zone to find something truly special. This trail is clearly not for those who are faint-hearted. As hikers embark on this adventure, it is necessary for them to stay on the clearly marked paths and venture into the trail with caution by travelling in groups.

For each question from 21 to 25, four options are given. One of them is the correct answer. Make your choice (1, 2, 3 or 4) and shade your answer on the Optical Answer Sheet.

(5 marks)

21 According to the poster in Text 1, which of the following is not true of Whispering Pines?

(1) Visitors must pay to enter the trail.
(2) The trail is located on Midori Island.
(3) The trail was recently open to visitors.
(4) Only four types of animals have been spotted.

22 "On both sides where the pine trees sway." Why did the writer use this line in Text 1?

(1) to advise readers that the trail will be breezy
(2) to spark interest in pine trees among readers
(3) to create an image of the trail in the reader's mind
(4) to warn readers they must travel far to get to the trail

23 "With every step, a story unfolds". In Text 1, the picture supports this by giving the impression that the trail _____.

(1) is difficult for visitors to walk along
(2) has many animals roaming around
(3) shows where the animals are hiding
(4) leads visitors to discover the unknown

24 Based on the extract in Text 2, which word best describes a hiker's experience at Whispering Pines nature trail?

(1) eerie
(2) challenging
(3) mysterious
(4) inspirational

25 Hikers should consider hiring the local trail guides mentioned in Text 1 because Text 2 says that _____.

(1) the relatively unknown area has several potential hazards
(2) the nature trail will become a popular hiking destination
(3) hikers should use a map and compass for navigation
(4) it is necessary for all hikers to travel in groups

Refer to the passage below when you answer questions 66 to 75 in Booklet B.

Joe loved hiking and the hike that year was going to be a unique experience. Not only were his friends joining him for the hike but he also brought along his dog, Bobby. His parents got the dog for him on his fifth birthday and since then, they have been constant companions.

When all the boys arrived at their school, their teacher, Mr. Maxwell, told them to board the bus. The boys sang merrily as they boarded and headed to their destination - an underground cave. Before they knew it, Mr. Maxwell exclaimed, "We're here!"

At the start of the hike, Joe and his friends were captivated by the beauty and serenity of nature. The trees around them were filled with vibrant and green leaves. They were happy to be there, as their legs quickened with each step. Meanwhile, Bobby wagged its tail and ran in between the trees excitedly. It went up one slope and down another. Joe did not have to call it back, since Bobby would always return to him.

Soon, Mr Maxwell called everyone forward and gave an instruction, "This narrow trail is quite perilous, so please stay on the path and hold onto your belongings securely." Mr. Maxwell insisted that it must be taken seriously.

Joe held Bobby's collar tightly and walked with extreme care. After an hour, they reached their destination – the entrance of the cave. It looked like a black smudge at the end of the trail and this scared him.

After keeping a watchful eye on the boys for the entire journey, Mr. Maxwell was engulfed by fatigue. He told the boys, "Now, let's take a break."

The children's faces brightened up upon hearing Mr. Maxwell's words. They could finally get their well-deserved break. Joe immediately wanted to find a spot to rest. However, as he turned around, Bobby's leash accidentally slipped out of his sweaty hand. The little dog scampered a few steps away from him and tumbled down into a hole near the entrance of the cave.

Joe immediately shouted, "Help, Mr. Maxwell!" Anxiety washed over him as he thought of his beloved dog. Would Bobby survive? Lying flat on his belly, he looked down into the hole. Barely able to see what was below at first, Joe's vision quickly adjusted to the darkness.

Joe stretched his arm and reached down, trying to grab Bobby's paws. Unfortunately, he could not catch them and instead, he too slid into the hole. Joe looked around, but by that time, he could not find Bobby. He could only hear its barking and the sound of his heart pounding furiously against his ribcage.

"I have to get my dog," he thought. Joe always had a fear of the dark but he knew he had to save Bobby. Plucking up his courage, Joe moved forward while watching his steps. He had to be cautious as there could be more tunnels or even holes to fall into. Fortunately, he found Bobby whimpering in a corner after some time and the two of them gingerly found their way back. Mr. Maxwell and the boys pulled both of them out to safety. His teacher was frantically asking, "Are you all right?"

"Yes!" Joe assured Mr. Maxwell that he was fine as he did not want him to be overly worried.

Mr. Maxwell gave Joe a big wink. "I'm so proud of you," he said. "You were very brave." Joe felt like a hero, having conquered his fear of the dark. It was a triumphant moment. The rest of the trip went smoothly. Joe enjoyed the hike despite the ordeal.
