Section H: Comprehension Open-Ended (10 marks)

Read and annotate the passage. Answer the questions that follow. Your answers must be based on the passage read.

It was a Monday afternoon, and Sean Quinn and Matt Fischer were the only ones in the computer room. The inseparable friends were always spending time together and plotting pranks, even though they had been punished by their teachers many times. They were waiting for their classmate, Debbie Jean, to play a prank on her – they overheard her announcing earlier that she would be going to the computer room.

The boys finally spotted Debbie Jean who was coming in. They greeted her but as usual, she ignored them. Matt quickly darkened his computer screen when she got closer. From the corner of his eye, Sean watched her march to her favourite computer. Debbie Jean was bossy and nosy, always poking into what others were doing so she could tell them how to do it better. Sean tried not to laugh as she sat down.

Matt brightened his screen and began typing. Debbie frowned, typed something on the keyboard, then frowned harder. She grabbed the mouse. After shaking it hard, she suddenly pushed her chair back with a loud screech. Then, muttering under her breath, she stormed out with clenched fists.

As soon as she left the room, Matt nearly fell off his chair laughing. Sean joined in, his shoulders shaking.

"What did you even type?" Sean gasped, wiping his eyes..

Matt grinned. "I typed: I'm a magic computer. If you don't listen to me, I'll turn you into a frog. And guess what? She typed back: That's what you think! I immediately replied with: Don't test me, Debbie Jean. I'm watching you."

Sean howled. "Matt, you're a genius!" He slapped his friend a high-five, still laughing.

Their prank worked better than they had hoped. They managed to trick Debbie Jean, and the computer room echoed with their giggles. But their laughter faded when they saw her return with red eyes, looking shaken. Their teacher, Mr Ray, was right next to her. Shame prickled at the back of their necks as they realised their joke had gone too far. For the first time, their prank didn't feel funny at all. Both boys knew they had to think twice before playing another prank on someone again.	30
