Section C: Comprehension 1
Read the passage below and answer questions 35 to 42.

Ted loved walking along the beach. After he had finished his dinner, he put on a jacket. Together with his dog, Dave, they went out for a walk. The strong wind blew against his face and the weather was cold.

The beach was only two kilometres from Ted's house, but the wind was blowing so strongly that it took him almost thirty minutes to reach there. When Ted finally arrived at the beach, he heard the sound of the waves breaking on the shore. The stormy weather made the waves huge that night. Dave barked in excitement as the seawater rushed towards the shore.

As they walked along the beach, Ted suddenly heard something in the water 'barking' back. At first, Ted thought there was another dog in the water. He spotted a tiny head with two big eyes, popping out in between the waves and took a closer look. Then, he saw two tiny ears and realised that it was a seal.

The seal had entangled itself in the large leaves of a brown sea plant. As the waves were too strong, it was unable to free itself. Ted did not know how to help the seal as he was not a good swimmer.

Suddenly, Dave jumped into the water and swam towards the new-found "friend". After Dave pulled at the plant vigorously, the seal managed to break free and swim away. Dave swam back to shore. Ted hugged Dave and praised his clever dog.

Section H: Comprehension 2
Read the passage below and answer questions 43 to 49.

Fiona was the most popular girl in her class. She was kind and friendly to her classmates. She invited the whole class to her birthday party and gave everyone presents. She had so many friends but she did not have a true friend.

One day, everything changed. Mrs Lim, their teacher told the class to make three presents to give to three true friends. The students were having a great time making gifts.

When the students had shared out all their presents, Fiona was the only one who had not received one! She felt terrible and cried bitterly. How could it be possible? She had so many friends. One by one, her classmates consoled her, each spending a short time with her and then they left her alone.

When she got home, she cried and asked her mother where she could find true friends.

"If you really want true friends, you will have to spend more time with your friends. You must show care for them and always be available, during good times and bad times," advised her mother.

"But I want to be everybody's friend!" Fiona protested.

"There just isn't enough time to be available for everyone, so it's only possible to have a few true friends. The others will be playmates but they won't be your true friends," said her mother, wisely.

Fiona realised that she had been a good companion to everyone but not a true friend to anyone. That night, she decided to change her ways so that she could finally have some true friends.
