(E) Comprehension

Read this passage and answer questions 13 to 19. (8 marks)

Fred, a farmer, woke up to the sound of frogs croaking loudly at night during the rainy season. This continued every night. After many sleepless nights, Fred was too tired and grumpy to work in his fields during the day.

"It is driving me crazy! We must get rid of these frogs!" the farmer yelled.

One day, Fred's wife returned from the market after buying groceries and told him some good news. A new restaurant which served frog legs as a popular dish had opened in town. Fred was pleased that he could get rid of the noisy frogs and earn a handsome sum by selling them.

The next day, Fred went to town. He told the restaurant owner that he could sell him an unlimited supply of frog legs. The restaurant owner asked, "Where do you get so many frog legs?" Fred replied, "There is a pond near my house and there are millions of them!" After discussing, they agreed that Fred would deliver five hundred frogs to the restaurant for the next several weeks.

Fred went to the pond to catch all the frogs he could get his hands on. To his surprise, he discovered that there were only two frogs in the pond. He searched the whole pond and the surrounding area to make sure that he did not make a mistake. He stared in disbelief at the two frogs that had been making such a din all this while. Fred's dream of making a fortune was immediately dashed that day.
