Section C: Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the passage below and answer questions 11 – 17.

Emma loved to read stories and act them out at home. The teacher-in-charge of the Drama Club, Miss Goh, approached her to play the lead role in the upcoming school play. "You can do it!" she assured her, giving her a thumbs-up. Emma froze.

"What if I forget my lines?" she asked Mother that night.

Mother smiled gently. "Being nervous is okay, Emma. The only way to get past fear is to face it," she advised.

Emma practised her lines in front of the mirror every day. She even practised them with her little brother, who giggled every time she made a funny voice. Still, as the performance day drew closer, the butterflies in Emma's stomach fluttered more wildly. She tried hard not to think about making mistakes.

Finally, the big day arrived. Emma peeked out from behind the curtain and saw a huge audience. Her heart pounded.

"I can do this," she whispered, recalling all her practice.

When the curtain rose and the spotlight hit her, Emma felt the fear, but she did not let it stop her. She spoke clearly, remembered all her lines, and even made the audience laugh.

After the show, Miss Goh congratulated her and said, "You were amazing, Emma!"

Emma grinned as she stepped back. She had been nervous the whole time, but being brave didn't mean not being scared — it just meant trying. She was glad that she did just that.
